My First Big Book Of Bugs

In the quiet of the undergrowth, lies a whole secret world of creatures - so tiny and silent. If you did not look very closely, you would not even know they were there! Busy in their own little world, rushing around to collect food and keep their families safe and warm. Sometimes, these tiny little bugs can sneak into our own homes and make a safe space in the corner of a wall or under the sofa!

You are a Star Bug Hunter and you have a challenge to complete!

What types of bugs do you think lurk at the bottom of the garden, under a rock or hidden in our own homes?

Is there a tiny family of sweet little spiders, a squadron of slimy snails, or something else?

What can you find out about the secret world of bugs?

What are the bugs called and what do they look like?

Where do the bugs live and what do they eat?

Bug Hunters, we can't wait to hear about your discoveries!

Email pictures of your completed work to your school by Friday 19th June. Your school will choose the best two pieces of work and will enter them into a Star Academies national competition. Good luck bug hunters!
